

46

Rajarata University of Sri Lanka
Faculty of Applied Sciences
Mihintale

RAJARATA UNIVERSITY OF SRI LANKA
FACULTY OF APPLIED SCIENCES, MIHINTHALE

B.Sc. (General) Degree in Health Promotion
Second Year – Semester I Examination – October/November 2014

HPT 2102 – WORKING WITH COMMUNITIES

Time: 1 ½ hours

Answer all (03) questions.

1. a. Explain the advantages and disadvantages of community focused interventions compared to individual focused interventions in promoting public health. (40 marks)
b. Describe how you would initiate a dialogue with a given community in order to start a community health promotion intervention. (30 marks)
c. Explain the factors which influence building partnerships with a community. (30 marks)
2. a. Explain the steps in assessing the needs of a community in accordance with health promotion principles. (30 marks)
b. Describe what you understand from the term 'outreach work'. (30 marks)
c. Explain the issues to address when evaluating a community health promotion programme. (40 marks)
3. a. Explain, giving examples, what is meant by a 'settings approach' in health promotion. (50 marks)
b. Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of using a settings approach for health promotion interventions. (50 marks)